The concepts and creativity that defines the most successful contemporary conversions are given an address: TRAMHOUSE, an iconic context for inner-city life. As one of North Melbourne's most highly desired settings this boutique residence is appointed to honour not only the principles of cutting-edge design but the story of rich history and heritage. Impressive original brickwork, retained and re-integrated, today inform soaring cathedral ceilings where sky windows shower the lounge in natural light throughout the day and Bosch/stone kitchen keeps the contemporary in frame. Superb ensuite bedrooms, both upstairs and down, each individually interpret the past in the present, further complemented by a secure garage, air-conditioned living, Euro laundry and, of course, surrounds that relish the café culture of Errol Street as well as trams, trains - in fact every inner-city attraction.
